Essen, Germany / Paris France - January 25, 2022 - DR. J. B. Blues announces the release of his new album "Bluesy Sky over Paris". This album is released by House Master Records. The album is available on Spotify - iTunes - Amazon (CD and download).

"Bluesy Sky over Paris" has 9 songs and was recorded and mixed between August 2, 2021 - October 29, 2021 at L`Auditorium Studios Paris by TristanAbgrall and mastered at Metropolis Studios London by John Davis ("Led Zeppelin Remasters").

Dr. J. B. Blues made his recording debut with his album „Bluesy Sky over Paris“, which pays tribute to two of his heroes, Jimi Hendrix and Stevie Ray Vaughan. The album contains his own special interpretations of classic blues rock songs most written by Hendrix and Vaughan. Most carry forward the spirit of the original, while not at all being note-for-note reinterpretations. Dr. J.B. Blues is backed by bassist Christophe Garreau and percussionist Guillaume Destarac, a veteran rhythm section who've recorded several CDs with Paul Personne and Fred Chapellier, two of the most beloved artists in the French blues scene.

Based out of Essen, Germany, where he's a real-life physician who specializes in oncology and hematology, Dr. J. B. Blues is a blues rock guitarist, too, he has made a name for himself producing Blues Rock Against Cancer charity concerts in his homeland. He started playing guitar at the age of fourteen. His guitar style was mainly influenced by blues, especially by Stevie Ray Vaughan.
